

Maison L'Oree 2011 Chambolle-Musigny

Vieilles Vignes. This is a project of Rajat Parr in Burgundy, and translates to the home at the edge of the forest. The nose shows some roasted meat with spice and a light tone of red fruits. The palate has a lovely balance of minerals, loamy earth, subdued red fruits all integrated by moderate acid. Excellent. D&M Tasting Notes

Winemaker's Notes

This village Pinot Noir is bright and vibrant with nuances of minerality. On the palate, the broad flavors and mid-palate clarity display notes of sour cherry and peony. The firm tannins provide added complexity to this Chambolle.
