

Pantsuit Pinot Noir

Unapologetically Tasty Oregon Pinot Noir.

A wine that demands your attention. She pulls you in with her violet color and nose of rose, earth and cherry. She continues to hold your attention with an expansive palate of anise, red fruits and a touch of leather. A seamless finish lets you know you were just schooled on what a Pinot Noir can be.

Pairings: Perfect for a night with friends as well as discussions of equal pay and how to get more women to the table in policy and leadership positions. And cheese, of course, it pairs well with cheese.
