

Grassi Mezzo Mezzo

WE BELIEVE IN GROWING QUALITY OVER QUANTITY, PAYING ATTENTION TO DETAIL AND RESPECTING THE SOIL. GRASSI WINES ARE A LIVING EXPRESSION OF THIS PHILOSOPHY. WE LOOK FORWARD TO SHARING MANY VINTAGES WITH YOU. – MARK AND CASSANDRA GRASSI

The Grassi vineyard site was once an ancient riverbed. It sits on a bench above the valley floor at the bottom of Soda Canyon Road below the Atlas Peak Appellation. This region has been known for fine wines since 1870.

The soil is tempered by cobbles, ranging in size from thumb to cantaloupe. The cobbles keep the soil from being too fertile and provide superb drainage. Our vineyard slopes gently to a center drainage running east to west. We decided to plant on a tight grid to provide excellent density for flavor concentration.

2013 RIBOLLA GIALLA
Robert Parker-90 pts

"A rare offering from California, Grassi's 2013 Ribolla Gialla is a non-malolactic, 400-case cuvée aged in neutral French oak for seven months prior to bottling. Made from a grape that is nearly unknown even in Italy, it is a lovely white offering notes of lemon, honey, orange blossoms, melons and a certain exoticism. Medium-bodied, crisp and zesty, with the oak pushed to the background, it can be enjoyed with an assortment of foods over the next few years."
