Tablas Creek "Espirit De Tablas"

2015 Adelaida District, Paso Robles, California

49% Mourvedre, 25% Grenache, 21% Syrah, 5% Counoise

The 2015 Espirit de Tablas has an inviting nose of warm berry compote, given complexity by sun-drenched bay leaf and newly turned earth: Mourvedre at its most appealing. The mouth is lush and dense, with big but refined tannins, and flavors of licorice, blackberry, and cedar. Mourvedre's characteristic meatiness is in the background at this point, but just waiting for a few years in bottle to emerge. Alternatingly bright and deep on the finish, with lingering flavors of wood smoke, plum skin and spice. $59.99/btl

Kukeri Wines Cabernet Sauvignon

2016 Rutherford, Napa Valley, California

The name Kukeri refers to a Bulgarian ritual that dates back 8000 years to Dionysus, the god associated with wine, fertility and rebirth and is carried out today with the yearly Kukeri festival. Peter Kirilov, a winemaker with Bulgarian roots, sourced grapes from the famed Rutherford appellation to create a wine that is bold and full bodied, sophisticated and well balanced. On the nose the wine bursts with lush dark berries, blueberry and black berry with a touch of dark chocolate, leather and vanilla. Velvety tannins on this youthful wine that can be aged for many years. $79.99/btl
