

Domaine Vincent Ledy Chorey Les Beaune

Domaine Vincent Ledy is one of the smallest domaines in the Cote d'Or. Vincent owns a total of 2.6 hectares. Created in 2006 by Vincent himself after eight years at wine school in Beaune and working part time at the prestigious Nuits Saint Georges Domaine Lecheneaut. Vincent is the nephew of Alain Michelot.

There are six wines, all red, and the annual production is about 8500 bottles (708cs 12/750ml). Vincent is not fond of new oak. In fact, new barrels are banned from his cellar. The barrels used in his cellar have seen four wines or more before they are allowed in and all wines spend 18 months in barrel with racking. "I want to avoid tannins from the oak in the wine, he explains. I have no wish to blend outside tannins with the terroir".

Vincent believes it is better to have a well-placed parcel in a lesser appellation than a not so well-placed parcel in a more well-known appellation. He is a meticulous vigneron and his yields are often 1/3 less than his neighbors. The style of wines produced here are all dark in color, concentrated, compact, purposefully terroir driven, long and age worthy.

Size: 2.6 Hectares

Soil: clay, limestone (calcaire)

Grapes: Pinot Noir, Chardonnay

Vinification: Older Barrel (nothing newer than 4 previous wines)

Tasting Notes: Very dark fruits and roses, dense and compact with mineral intensity and roasted meat flavors.